TOBACCO SALES

Will Be Better, As Many Farmers Reported Their Weed Was Casing.

With the wet weather of the last few days comes the news—and good news—that much of the tobacco hereabouts has been sufficiently to enable it to be handled and that the farmers had been hard at work preparing it for market, which means that this week will see an improvement in the quantity of tobacco moving over the floors of the various loose leaf warehouses here, and will enable the handlers to get hold of some of the idle cash and make a lively Christmas for them.

The sales Monday were only of a small amount, but all houses reported spirited markets, with only fair offerings.

Sales were as follows:

Independent.
Pounds sold 2,745
High price $17.50
Low price $14.75
Market—Good.
Offerings—Fair.

Home.

A small sale of 583 pounds was made here, which averaged $10.82.
Market—Spirited.

Farmers.

Pounds sold 3,585
High price $17.50
Low price $14.75
Average for a crop belonging to C.
O. Christmas, of Fayette, W. Va., was $14.25.

Supervisor's Report.

Tobacco sales here Monday were 10-715 pounds at an average of $8.26. Offerings were generally of low grades,
but prices were good.

DISFRANCHISED VOTERS

To the Number of Two Thousand
Restored To Citizenship This Month In Adams County, Ohio.

(Portsmouth Star.)

During the present month almost 2,000 disfranchised voters of Adams county will be restored to citizenship,
following the expiration of a sentence
extending over a period of five years.

This is the closing chapter in one of the most remarkable examples of election bribery in the history of the state and nation.

It came as a rude shock to many who had dreamed the dream that, in sylvan glades and mossy dells, of our rural districts, pure patriotism is still uncontaminated and the sovereign voter wields his ballot as the knight—'Sans Peur Et Sans Reproche'—one wielding
his sword, for the right as he sees it and without other hope of reward than the consciousness of duty well and bravely done.

Naturally, Adams would have been no more corrupt than her sister counties, but a pivotal situation between the two major parties made the contest extremely bitter, and the combatants were not particular about the weapons of warfare used so the results were obtained.

The unfortunate conditions revealed
at the probe were the result of a system of growth covering a period of a century. It touched all conditions of life—the various strata of society. It extended to the halls of congress and caused a trusted employe to abscond with $75,000 of government money and flee to Canada where he died in exile. It touched a brilliant lawyer in the legislature of Ohio, corrupting and blighting his life and sending him to a premature grave. It sent an honored citizen to a suicide's grave after he had squandered the funds of church, lodge and municipality in a fruitless effort to be elected to a county office. A score or more of tragedies could be enumerated growing out of this unfortunate situation.

The man responsible for the probe is a resident of Portsmouth—Judge A. Z.
Blair. As a candidate for position on the bench, he had been threatened with defeat unless he contributed $25, 500 to a corruption fund in that county. His refusal resulted in the withdrawal, five days before the election, of every candidate on the ticket. New men were drafted to fill the vacancies
only to be overwhelmingly defeated at the election. The district, however, gave Blair a majority and he assumed his duties determined to strike a blow in an effort to rid the county of the deplorable conditions prevailing.

For the task he selected a grand jury comprising men of all parties,
who were known to stand four square on the proposition. The foreman was former Congressman Lucien J. Fenton and the chief counsel in the prosecution was W. P. Stephenson, the present county judge of Adams.

It has been asked why the men who did the buying were given an immunity bath and the so-called bootleggers punished. One class or the other had to be exempted in order to get at the root of the evil and the court used
the more feasible plan.

While the metropolitan press featured this probe with many colored and distorted versions, yet there were scores of good stories that never were given publicity. So contagious was the desire of the accused to enter a plea of guilty that scores of men tramped through the snow for twenty miles to confess their "sin." Even a mother told how she had delivered the vote of her son for twelve good
"bucks," and a farmer worth $75, 000 "fessed up" to having "delivered"
the votes of himself and two sons for
"thirty pieces of silver" (dollars).

But we do not purpose to single out the electorate of Adams county for special reproof. The people there are as good as in any other community of like size in the state. In fact,
many of her citizens are to be found in exalted positions in this and other states. It is to be hoped that the investigations may have lasting results. It started a wholesome degree of self-inspection by other counties and cities, into practices that have brought suspicion upon election methods and more or less scandal upon our system of popular government.

NEW BUILDING

On Market Street Is the Rumor—Work
To Commence After
January 1.

There is a very strong rumor on the streets that Maysville is to have a large new store building on Market street, to be occupied by a local concern.

It is stated the building is to be three stories, and will take the place of two houses now being used in the liquor business. This improvement on Market street is much needed and will make that street one of the best looking in town.

Maysville can stand the erection of several new store buildings and The Ledger hopes the rumor will be a reality. Let the good work go on.

"ENCLOSED FIND CHECK" BEST THREE WORDS

Many Maysville People To Receive Christmas Money From Local Bank.

"What are the three sweetest words in the world?" asked the preacher tonight in the course of his sermon,
without really expecting an answer.
And a blunt business man promptly spoke up: "Enclosed find check."

It startled the minister and amused
the congregation.

But maybe some of us agree with the business man. Anyway, the Union Trust & Savings Company believes we appreciate the value of those three words and it has made it possible for hundreds of Maysville people to receive good substantial checks when Christmas rolls around.

It's a novel and practical plan
it will bring Christmas cheer in increased measure to many.

How It's Done.

It's the old story that they are helped who help themselves.

The bank has installed the Christmas Money Club. Those who join this club really furnish the money for their own checks.

But the club furnishes a plan that makes it so easy to put by the money that it seems to every member as though the check he receives is purely a present.

You join the club knowing there will be no dues, no fines or penalties.
The bank keeps the records and looks
after the details.

There are several divisions in the club, and the question of how large a Christmas check you will receive depends upon which of the divisions you join.

There is hardly a person in Maysville now who does not understand how the Club is operated. If you are not familiar with the plan, call at the bank and get a circular. Let them know how much you want to save and they will arrange the payments to suit
you.

Checks Mailed Tomorrow.
The 1,600 members of the Club will receive checks for their year's savings in the mail tomorrow.

The new Club for 1916 will be open for members beginning Wednesday December 15th. This is done to avoid the rush for memberships after the holidays.

pelled to be absent on account of colds

IN EPIDEMIC FORM

Is the Grip, Colds and Sore Throats
In This City At Present.

This city and vicinity are having its troubles just at present, the main one being grip, added to which is a large amount of severe colds and sore throats.

These three combined make a combination that would cause a person to feel like doing anything but work.
Monday the schools were made to feel the presence of these ailments, by the absence of about 200 pupils, all reporting either one or the other, or all three of the abominations, there being about seventy-five out of the High School alone.

The miserable state of the weather
the last three days, coupled with the warm days last week, and the sudden changes are responsible for the pre-valing near-epidemic.

SHOPPING EARLY.

Monday was a good business day
with the merchants, and most of them

It is a problem of a fresh air, rest and good food. These medicines are in reach of most people around here.

It is pathetic to see how people will struggle along under this malady for months or years, continuing to work and live without the needed fresh air. As the disease reaches its last stages, they awake to the need of a radical step. They leave for some climate supposed to be curative. But the change comes too late. They are taken away from families without means of support, who are left with a scar of tragedy across their lives. Had they but recognized the trouble earlier, they might be living and working now. Attempts to continue in one's employment when suffering from the beginnings of this disease are dangerous, and apt to be penny wise and pound foolish.

A constant crusade should be kept up against the habit of spitting in the streets. The protest against this disgusting custom is no mere matter of manners and civic neatness. It is a fight for public health, as against the easiest way of spreading America's worst disease.

These matters may not sound just like pulpit and parlor themes. But this is no subject for squeamishness, and public speakers should talk plainly about it.

The lengthy customs officers will go when spurred by Secretary McAdoo into adopting every means to succeed our dwindling revenues, is well indicated by a recent customs ruling of the Board of General Appraisers at New York. The Linen Thread Company, of Boston, imported some machines for making fish nets. Customs officers assessed duty on them as machines for making embroidery, lace, etc., at 25 per cent ad valorem. The Board couldn't swallow that, and decided the machines were dutiable as "manufactures of metal not specifically provided for," dutiable at 20 per cent. A reliquidation of the excess duties was ordered, and the Treasury Department will have to pungle.

The Liberty Bell has now got back to Philadelphia, where it will probably stay until it is taken around to the cattle shows next fall.

Do your Christmas shopping both early and late. You can't afford to miss the exhilarating joys of the grand rush.

Fun---Well Done

"Ma," remonstrated Bobby, "when I was at Grandma's she used to let me have two pieces of cake."

"Well, she ought not to have done so, Bobby," said his mother. "I think two pieces of cake are too much for little boys. The older you grow the more wisdom you will gain."

Bobby was silenced, but only for a moment. "Well, Ma," he said, "Grandma is a good deal older than you are."

A young English farmer, wishing to have his barns published, went to see the parish clergyman. The reverend gentleman asked him several questions, all of which he was able to answer with the exception of one.

"Is your intended wife a spinster?" the clergyman asked.

He paused in thought. Then he replied: "No, sir; she's a dressmaker."

Do You Read Labels?

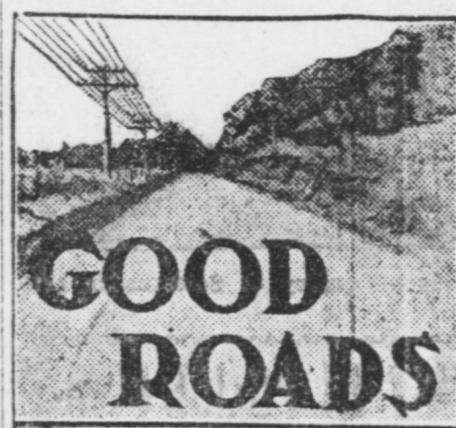

Domestic science teachers and food authorities are urging the housewife to carefully read the labels on all food articles.

The laws of most States compel food manufacturers to print the ingredients of their products on the label, and this enables consumers to distinguish healthful foods from those which may be deleterious.

High-grade baking powders are made of pure cream of tartar, derived from grapes. Royal Baking Powder is a type of the highest grade. It is healthful beyond a doubt and the safest and best to use.

The low-grade baking powders are made from alum, a mineral acid salt, or phosphate of lime.

Consumers can learn the character of the baking powder by referring to the label, which must state whether the contents include cream of tartar, alum or phosphate.

BEST WIDTH OF GOOD ROADS

Old Turnpikes, Still Our Best Roads—Ways, Were Not Wide—Built for Service and Profit.

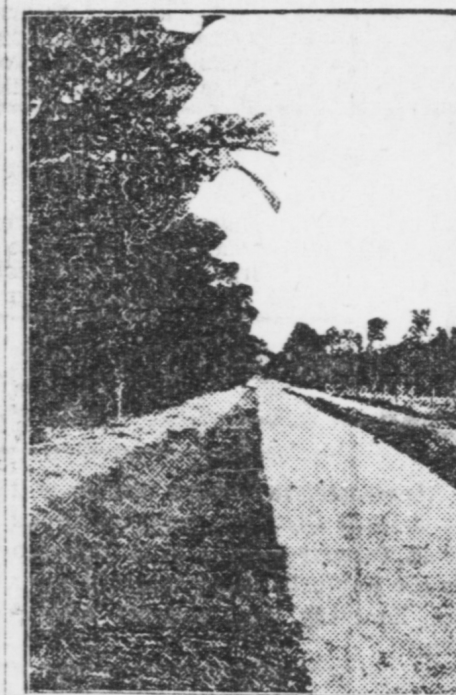

One of the best roads I have ever driven over was just wide enough for two vehicles to pass without scraping the point of each other's hubs. I am not sure that sometimes the hubs did not touch. But it was a road that was always in good condition and the men who kept it up seemed to do so with comparative ease, writes W. E. Rose of Iowa in Farm Progress.

Some of the old turnpikes, still our best roadways, were not a rod in width. When these roads were built they were built for both service and profit, and in figuring the future profits the builders saw that the wider the roadway and the wheel track the more maintenance cost and, therefore, the less profits.

It is a pity that the men who laid out the first 60-foot and 66-foot highways hadn't taken a leaf from the book of the turnpike builders. If they had we would not have millions of acres of land lying worse than idle along our public highway right of ways. Say that the road runs 20 miles from county seat to county seat. Along its length there will be anywhere from 80 to 120 acres of land growing up in weeds, road grass, brush and thickets where it is not being washed into deep roadside gullies. Why, in some states there is a full half million acres of land that is being wasted in just that way and land in these states is selling anywhere from $30 to $200 an acre!

Many of the best and most famous roads of Europe are but 16½ feet in width and they handle some of the very heaviest highway traffic. Right now in these counties and townships in this country where hard roads, permanent highways, are being constructed, few of them are being built more than 18 feet wide and a good many of them are even narrower.

The railroads, wasteful as they are in some things, are beginning to realize the waste of a useless right of way.

An Improved Road in Maryland.

A road running through Illinois has its track fringed with alfalfa. Some farmers have resented the waste and are beginning to cultivate the land out to the wheel tracks. This may cause a little trouble at times, but after all it is not a great deal better than letting the roadsides grow up in ironweeds, sumacs, briars and thickets?

Any of our road vehicles needs no more than a six-foot clearance. Figure out for yourself how many farm wagons could drive abreast on a 66-foot highway and then try to imagine any necessity for any such arrangement. On a highway road in width there is room for two vehicles to pass with about four and one-half feet to spare. Why have the roads, then, 66 feet wide?

Some of these days our roads will be narrowed. We have not really felt the pinch of a real land need yet. When we do, then there will be a sudden narrowing of these wide stretches that are now weed incubators and seeders. In the meanwhile why not make some use of the soil flanking the public highways? Why not seed it in grass and mow it as you would a meadow? Of course the land belongs to the public, to the public, but it is worse than a waste. Why not make it give some return to someone?

PROPER WAY TO MAKE BED

Seems a Simple Proceeding, but There Are Some Methods Preferable to Others.

To make up a bed so that it will be smooth, tuck the clothes in, one piece at a time, at the sides, and complete the work all but tucking the clothes in at the foot. Now draw the clothes down, one piece at a time, as taut as possible, and tuck them in at the foot. The bed will be far neater looking than would be otherwise possible. If the bed is of iron or brass, which does not permit of tucking in the coverlet, tuck in the other clothes as directed, placing the coverlet over all.

A new way to make beds is as follows: Sew two short loops on one end of each covering, these loops being the distance apart of the width of the bed and equally distant from the corners of the coverings. Then take a brass rod cut just as long as the bed is wide, and cover it with a thin padding of cotton and some durable material. This rod is run through the loops of the bed coverings and tucked in at the foot of the bed.

When the bed is put to air, the bed-clothes may be readily thrown back without becoming separated. This device is especially adapted for children's beds, or is good to use when there is illness in the home.

Colcannon.

Boil separately equal weights of young cabbage, savory or spinach and potatoes. Chop the greens, wash the potatoes, mix them well together with a little pepper and salt and one ounce of butter to one pound of the mixture over the fire for a few minutes, stirring it all the time, then press it into a hot, well-buttered mold. Turn out and serve, or press, after mixing, into a well-buttered mold and put it into the oven for half an hour. Any cold vegetables may be warmed up in this way.

French Soup Without Meat.

Take a large lump of butter, a tablespoonful of flour and brown them in the saucepan you mean to make the soup in. Cut up carrots, celery, potatoes, onions and a little cabbage if you like, very fine together, put them all in the saucepan with pepper and salt. Pour boiling water over them and let them simmer from three to four hours. It cannot simmer too much. A pinch of thyme, parsley, chervil and mint is a great improvement.

Creeping Quilt.

Who ever thought of it? And why did not someone think of it sooner? What? Why, the idea of putting those linen Mother Goose books to good use. Some thinking person has conceived the idea of cutting out the Mother Goose characters from those linen books and appliqueing them on pink or blue silkline or chambray or similar material for a baby's creeping quilt. When the youngster finds his favorite story characters under his very feet, as it were, he will not want to wander far. The idea may also be utilized for a bedquilt and will find warm welcome with the young members of the nursery.

KEE DAIRY HEIFER GROWING

First Year of Animal's Life Is Most Important—Give Them Skim Milk in Moderate Quantities.

(By R. M. WASHBURN.)

The first year of a calf's life is the most important with respect to its growth. Unless animals are kept growing during this period their final development will be much retarded, and the chances are they never will reach the scale which their inheritance would give them.

On the best regulated dairy farms calves are born in the autumn and early winter, and they should receive skim milk in moderate quantities through much, or all, of the summer following birth. On farms having hand separators there is no difficulty in providing the sweet milk for calves, morning and evening, but farmers who patronize whole-milk creameries or who still skim by hand should remember that after the first few weeks milk for calves should either be thoroughly sweet or fully sour, that the most dangerous condition is the half-sour stage. If milk is fed to calves when it is in this changing condition, it is almost certain to cause indigestion. It should not be half sour, nor sour one day and sweet the next, but always one or the other.

Clean feeding pails must be used, otherwise the germs of fermentation and diarrhea will be brought to the drinking dish, and with young calves it is important that the temperature at which the milk is fed be nearly that of the body. Older animals may receive milk of the temperature of the milk-holding tank.

THEY DON'T MIX

Poultry of different ages and breeds. Eggs of different sizes, ages and colors.

The market pays from two to eight cents more for eggs of uniform size, color and quality.

Hogs and the Farmer.

The wise farmer will always raise a few hogs to market some of the otherwise waste products, and the other farmer will raise more hogs to market more of the farm products. He will not sell all of his hogs now and go out of business just because grain is high in price; but he will look to see if it isn't profitable to market that high-priced grain through the higher-priced hogs.

Success in Bee Keeping. Actual experience is the only way in which success can be attained in bee keeping.

Our Policy

Through the entire Tobacco season will be the same as heretofore announced and as was shown at opening sale.

We will not have any person in SORT every load of Tobacco before offering it for sale.

We will not have any person in our employment that is engaged in speculating in Tobacco and who wants to buy the growers' Tobacco at a small price, so that he may sell it at a large one. All our efforts will be given exclusively to the growers.

We will not play any favorites. All customers will be treated exactly alike.

Prompt, proper, polite and equal service shall be our record. We will not hire any Solicitors to influence or annoy anyone.

Our houses will be open day and night and you can always get in, for we have plenty of room.

We will unload your Tobacco carefully and sell it quickly and at the Top of the Market

If you are looking for any special favor or privilege over your neighbor please do not come to us for we will not grant it.

We mean to run our business on the square and do everything within our power to make the Maysville Market the best in the Burley district. Clean and attractive.

If you believe in our policy we would like for you to approve it by taking your Tobacco to the

Home, Central, Farmers, Planters or Independent

where equal and square treatment is guaranteed.

We are, and shall continue to remain, INDEPENDENT of any alliance that is opposed to the above policies and ready to co-operate with any that favor same.

FROM THE EDUCATOR'S NOTEBOOK

Minneapolis.—The "night university" of Minneapolis, in which six thousand students are training for greater usefulness and a better chance in life's battles, is one of the notable examples of what the cities of the United States are doing for their citizens. It is said that there are three millions of aliens in our country over the age of 10 who can not speak English. Minneapolis has its share. In the six thousand are many aliens who wield the pick and shovel in the day time, or work in the flour mills. Ambition is what brings them each night to school. They are encouraged, they learn, and they keep coming, and many who began in the reading and writing courses are now taking high courses in the sciences. The University of Minnesota, the public schools, the Dunwoody Institute and the Y. M. C. A. care for classes

Philadelphia.—A special committee of educators appointed to investigate the comparative records made by girl students admitted to college on examination and on certificates, respectively, reports that investigation in Wellesley, Mt. Holyoke, Smith and Vassar disclosed that the students admitted by examination were more proficient. This report was submitted to the Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools of the Middle States and Maryland. For the first time a woman was chosen president of the association. She is Miss Katherine E. Puchon, principal of the Girls' High School of Philadelphia.

Urbana, Ill.—The new chemical laboratory at the State University is said to be the largest in the world. The building will be formally dedicated next April, when the American Chemical Society holds its meeting at the university. The home economics department of the university has secured a Pullman car and fitted it up with all sorts of household equipment necessary for demonstrations. The car is being sent about the state demonstrating to women the latest methods in household management.

Seattle.—The state of Washington is making a scientific survey of all public educational institutions in the state, in accordance with an act of the Legislature. Special attention is being given to the facilities available for and adapted to the immigrant population.

Springfield, Mass.—The American International College, which was established primarily to give alien students an American education, has inaugurated a special department for training these students for service among immigrants. The foreign students are being trained to become pioneers of their own people in this country.

Kansas City, Mo.—During the last five years this city has spent nearly five millions of dollars in public school buildings. Seventeen complete school plants were put up, with two high schools. Extra buildings and playgrounds were also provided.

MAKE KITCHEN BRIGHT

EASILY DONE BY EXERCISE OF A LITTLE THOUGHT.

Many Reasons Why Room Should Be the Cleanest, Sunniest and Most Cheerful in the House—Color Scheme Means Much.

One wonders at the housekeepers who choose for their kitchen walls and woodwork a dingy gray or brown or some other dark, dull color that will not show the dirt. Are they better housekeepers because the dirt, which is surely there, does not show? Would these same women wear black dresses and aprons when doing the cooking and feel that they were clean because they did not look soiled? The kitchen should be the cleanest, sunniest, and most cheerful room in the house. It is here the housekeeper spends most of her time, and it is here the food is prepared and often served.

It is not always possible to have the kitchen located so as to get the best light, but a dark room may be much improved by using the proper color. In a Minnesota town the school kitchen had windows on the east side only. Half of them were on a court and the others against a hill; but by the use of a deep cream tint on the ceiling, a buff for the walls, and woodwork of southern pine finished in the natural color and varnished, the effect of sunlight was given even on the dull, short days of the northern winter.

If there is much sunshine in the kitchen white or blue may be used; but on the north side of the house use buff or warm, yellowish tan. The increased cheerfulness and better spirits of the housekeeper will mean much to the entire family, and her work will not be increased by the new color scheme because a sunny, pleasant workshop lightens every task.—Mary L. FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Theford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble."

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Theford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught.

Theford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

CURE SEED CORN WITH CARE

It Should Be Hung Up or Placed on Racks in Such Way That Air May Circulate Freely.

Extraordinary care will be needed in curing seed corn this fall. Most of the seed corn picked will contain much moisture.

The more moisture the more serious will be the danger from freezing; consequently, seed corn should be stored in a dry and sufficiently warm place as soon as it is picked.

Moreover, it should be hung up or placed on racks in such a way that the air may circulate freely about every ear.

If these simple directions are followed, the corn will dry out rapidly, and the corn will give the largest possible germination in the spring.

After listening to many others in comparison I purchased the EDISON DIAMOND DISC PHONOGRAPH and I am perfectly delighted with it.

I have had some unnecessary worry about the durability of the records. By some unknown cause the reproducer was injured; the company replaced that with a new one and we have had no more trouble. The records are now perfectly durable.

With kindest regards and best wishes, I am very truly yours,

Presbyopia or old age sight is a condition which makes its presence felt at about the age of forty. It is an unfortunate and a misunderstood term. RED CROSS SEALS

Yonester Attracts Attention To His Own Case By Being Active In Selling the Stickers.

A lad of 11 entered the Anti-Tuberculosis society's headquarters the other day. He had left school some time ago. He had seen some of the boys and girls who had been in his school-room carrying Christmas seals, and he thought he would like to help contribute to the relief of the tuberculosis patients in the city. He got some seals from one of the children and sold a hundred of them.

Enthusiased with success he thought he'd try to sell some for himself. When he reported at headquarters the nurse looked at him and then took him into the clinic, then in session. An examination showed marked signs of tuberculosis, and today little Tony is in the sanatorium starting on a bigger fight than he has ever had before—a fight for health. His hundred seals helped to give him his chance for life.

Help the fight against tuberculosis by buying Red Cross Christmas seals. They are on sale at the following stores:

GERMAN RURAL CREDIT IS BEST OF ALL

In the current issue of Farm and Fireside is the following interesting comment on the system of German credits:

"According to Mr. David Lubin, the German landwirtschaft system of land-mortgage bonds, tested for 151 years, is the only one which will float and maintain its value without government guaranty; the only one which will get the farmer's money, as it has in Germany, at from 3 to 4 per cent, with amortization at the end of thirty to fifty years; the only one which avoids the hazards and expense of engaging in the banking business, and can be conducted at a trifling expense; the only one which will furnish bonds which in time of war and panic will float at interest lower than government bonds; the only one which will furnish safe investments for every investor.

"It can not be put into effect without important changes in our state laws.

"Prof. Brodnitz, of Halle University, Germany, states that 'the land-schaft system is standing the test of this war as it has at all other times.'

"The states are rapidly adopting rural credit plans which are the best they find it possible to frame at the moment. It will be a pity if, when the national government acts, it does not give us the best possible system."

MARY PICKFORD IN "ESMERALDA"

Of all the great dramatic successes of Frances Hodgson Burnett, "Esmeralda" is the most tender and lovable characterization ever created by this gifted authoress. As "Esmeralda" in the four-part photoplay based on this great stage success, produced by the Famous Players Film Company for Paramount Pictures, Mary Pickford renders one of the most touching screen impersonations of the year. This great photoplay attraction will be the main feature at the Washington Theater tonight.

SCHUMANN QUINTET

To Be the Attraction At Maysville High School Lyceum Course Wednesday Night.

On Wednesday night the lovers of classical music in Maysville and Mason county are to receive a treat. The Schumann Quintet will be the attraction at the Maysville High School Lyceum Course. This musical organization is composed of some of the most talented artists in the country, under the leadership of Herr Carl A. Lampert, who plays first violin. Herr Lampert has established himself as one of the leading violinists of America and the music lovers of this locality will miss a treat should they fail to attend Wednesday night's number. The other four members of the company are artists on their instruments and the press comments on them have been of the most gratifying character.

The program the company will render is said by musical experts and critics to be one of the most evenly balanced of any rendered by a Lyceum company on the American platform today. It includes sketches of the classical, historical and folk music, all blended so as to make a most delightful evening of harmony.

STARTED DISTURBANCE IN RESTAURANT.

Monday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock a man employed at the dam went into a Market street restaurant and ordered an oyster stew. After disposing of the stew he arose and tendered the cashier 15 cents in payment, when the regular price is 25 cents.

The cashier informed him of his error, but he refused to pay the additional 10 cents, and started toward the door. The cashier grabbed and held him until Police Sergeant Harry Walsh arrived on the scene and placed the offender under arrest. At headquarters he refused to tell his name or anything about himself. He was placed in jail.
